NEW BUILDING FOR FIRST PRESIDENCY

Mormon Church Plans Erection of $200,000 Structure to House All Officials.

A new five-story church building to cost about $200,000 that will be fire-proof and a model building in every way will be ready for occupancy within the next two years, according to the plans of the first presidency and the presiding bishopric of the Mormon church, as announced yesterday. Plans for the new structure are now being prepared by Young & Son, architects, and as soon as they are completed and accepted, bids for the construction will be asked. The new building is to contain practically all of the head offices of the Mormon church and they are to be offices built especially for the different departmental heads of the church. The building will be on the vacant space between the Lion house and the Hotel Utah, which is now devoted to lawn and shade and ornamental trees. The place is sufficiently large to allow room for a lawn surrounding the new structure, which will make it an ornament to the city as well as headquarters for the church.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT FOR N. E. A. DELEGATES

The Utah executive committee of the National Education association, held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at which some of the features of the big program for the July convention were discussed. It was decided to give a grand concert in the tabernacle, in which the great organ, the tabernacle choir and some of Salt Lake's renowned soloists will take part. The Springfield high school chorus will also be on the program.

H. H. Cummings, head of the Mormon church schools, chairman of one of the sub-committees, brought a message from the church authorities to the effect that all the buildings, halls, rest rooms and other accommodations would be placed at the disposal of the visitors. Inasmuch as there are numerous meeting places in the vicinity of the temple grounds, there will be no dearth of committee rooms and places for holding auxiliary sessions.

WANTED HERE; CAUGHT IN GRAND JUNCTION

Eugene McCann, wanted here on a charge of grand larceny, was arrested in Grand Junction yesterday, according to telegraphic word received by Sheriff Andrew Smith, Jr. McCann is alleged to have stolen two trunks full of clothes from a local hotel and shipped them to Pueblo, Colo., last Saturday. A telephone message to Sheriff Thomas Kelter of Carbon county failed to reach that officer in time for him to stop McCann from getting by Price on the Denver & Rio Grande. Thereupon Deputy Sheriff Alvin Williams telegraphed to Grand Junction. Last night an answer came from Chief of Police W. C. Herman, saying that the man wanted had been arrested. A deputy sheriff will probably leave for Grand Junction today to bring back the prisoner.

UTAH NATIONAL GUARD EXCELS NEW MEXICO'S

Colonel F. Perkins of the Twentieth Infantry, Fort Douglas, returned yesterday from a tour of inspection of the national guard of New Mexico. He was away from Salt Lake for nearly a month. Colonel Perkins reports that the guard of New Mexico is creditable, but not to be compared with the Utah guard. He said: "The New Mexico guard is well equipped with buildings. Practically every city in the state has a building built especially for the purpose and all are adapted for the purpose. I visited the city of importance in the state, making close train connections. The New Mexico guard is very good, but I would not make comparisons between it and the guard of this state."

SIMPLE SERVICES FOR CHARLES E. MADSEN

Attended by a gathering of friends that taxed the capacity of the Twentieth ward chapel, funeral services were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Charles E. Madsen, who died Sunday. The services were conducted by Bishop Lyon of the Twentieth ward. Governor William Spry offered the invocation. The speakers were George Romney and Apostle O. F. Whitney. The benediction was pronounced by Seymour B. Young, and the grave dedicated by Angus M. Cannon. Music was furnished by a quartette comprised of Horace S. Ensign, George P. Pyper, Fred Graham and John D. Spencer. "Face to Face" was sung by Mr. Ensign. Interment was in the City cemetery.

Start on Snow Survey.

Accoutred as for an arctic expedition, H. K. Burton, city water engineer, and W. A. Richmond, his assistant, started yesterday to survey the snow in the city's watershed. They will be in the hills ten days or two weeks and will measure the snow in practically every canyon and gully that contributes to the flow in the streams from which the city's water comes.

Alleged Forger in Jail.

P. G. Atkinson, alleged to have cashed a worthless check for $5 at a local bank on April 8, was arraigned before Justice Harry S. Harper yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He pleaded not guilty and trial was set for April 28 at 2 p. m. In default of $200 the defendant was committed to the county jail.

DARING GIRL RIDER PAINFULLY INJURED

By International News Service. NEW YORK, April 22.—Miss Mae Wirth, the 18-year-old Australian equestrienne, said to be the world's most daring woman rider, was badly injured tonight when her horse dragged her several times around the main tent of the Barnum & Bailey circus in Brooklyn. Miss Wirth had just started on her Cossack ride when her horse became frightened at a piece of cloth which happened to be in the way and while the young rider was changing her position in the saddle the horse suddenly bolted from the ring.

Several hundred persons became panic-stricken as the horse dashed around the arena dragging the girl, whose foot had caught in the stirrup. Miss Wirth was kicked by the horse's hoofs several times before circus attendants finally caught the animal and removed the young woman, who was unconscious. She was treated by the circus physician and later removed to a hospital for an operation.
